

What makes a happy family? By Ansley

Families are made for each other. They can be mean, happy, or sad. They love each other no matter what happens. They make up after fights. So, be nice to each other, love forever, and be nice to your mom. Never be mean to your family but you can get mad at each other. I get mad at my brother but we make up; so be nice to your family!